STILL HELD BY JAPS

RUSSIANS UNABLE TO RETAKE THE CAPTURED FORTS AT PORT ARTHUR.

BALTIC FLEET IS TO SAIL

MAY START FOR THE FAR EAST REGARDLESS OF FATE OF RUSSIAN FORTRESS.

Efforts by the Russians to retake positions commanding the water supply of Port Arthur have resulted in hard fighting the losses on both sides being reported to have been heavy. The Japanese retain the contested ground. It is said that heavy guns newly mounted threaten the Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur, which may now be forced to go out and face the fleet of Admiral Togo. There is a report that a Japanese gunboat was sunk by coming in contact with a mine south of the Liaotung peninsula; the report adds that a portion of the crew were rescued.

The Japanese have completed the changing of the gauge of the railway from Daini to Newchwang and its equipment is nearly finished; this will be of great assistance to the armies in Manchuria.

The Russian admiralty has decided to dispatch the Baltic squadron in the direction of the far East within a short time; events are expected, however, to determine whether the vessels shall proceed to their destination or return to Russian ports to await reinforcements.

SQUADRON WILL SAIL

BALTIC WARSHIPS WILL SOON START FOR THE SCENE OF CONFLICT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 3.—Announcement is made that Emperor Nicholas will visit Reval on Tuesday to bid farewell to the Baltic squadron. After months of preparation and several false starts, it is believed that the squadron is at last on the eve of its departure upon its long journey. A division in the admiralty has existed throughout the period of preparation regarding the advisability of sending out the squadron, but with the decision to double the size of the Manchurian army and press the war with vigor, the logic of those who for months have insisted that every available ship should be dispatched to the far East has finally prevailed. The argument that no complete victory over the Japanese is possible unless the command of the sea is wrested from them, could not be overcome, and though much valuable time has been lost and the moment seems inauspicious, it is officially intimated that an irrevocable decision has been taken to dispatch the Baltic fleet, even if the Port Arthur squadron should be annihilated before its arrival there.

It is realized that the squadron, which, on paper is about equal in fighting strength to that of the Japanese fleet, will be much better able to encounter the foe now than next spring, after the Japanese ships have had all winter to repair and refit.

While hopes are still entertained that Port Arthur may be able to hold out until the appearance of the Baltic fleet, the question of the fall of that stronghold does not apparently, enter greatly into the calculations of the admiralty. The only thing expected of the Port Arthur squadron is to break out of the harbor and inflict as much damage as possible upon Admiral Togo's fleet. Such ships as escape are expected to make their way to Vladivostok, where the repairs upon the cruiser Bogatyr are understood to have been practically completed and those on the Russia and Gromoboi are nearing completion.

Sea Fight to Determine Conflict.

The question of the war in the far East will depend upon the issue of a sea fight after the arrival of the Baltic fleet. Vladivostok, although ice-bound in winter for commercial ships, can easily be kept open for a fleet of war vessels by means of icebreakers. If the Japanese fleet is caught in such a weakened condition that the Baltic ships are able to win a victory, officials here hold that other problems will solve themselves, and with Japanese communications severed, the Japanese army on the mainland will be at the mercy of Russia.

This boldly announced programme seems to stake the whole issue upon sea fighting.

The Japanese ships, it must be remembered, have been in active service seven months. No matter how greatly the efficiency of the guns and the speed of the vessels have been impaired, the crews of Admiral Togo's ships have enjoyed the prestige of continuous victories, while opposed to them will be a fleet of brand new ships, more or less untried and none of which have fired a shot in actual warfare, and whose crews have never yet been under fire.

But important conditions are attached to the programme outlined above. According to this information the Baltic fleet will be started to the far East, but the continuation of the voyage to its destination will depend primarily upon how the ships themselves stand the test of actual sailing, and second upon developments in the far East. Should all go well with the squadron on the voyage and Rear Admiral Wiren be able to strike a telling blow upon Admiral Togo, even if half his ships go to the bottom, the Baltic squadron will be hurried on with all possible speed. If defects develop in the vessels or if Wiren fails utterly, the squadron can at the worst return and await the completion of other ships now building.

SEVERE FIGHTING OCCURS.

Russians Try to Recapture Forts From the Japs.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—Severe fighting, the Russians being the aggressors, occurred Sept. 25 and 29 on the west shore of Liaotung promontory near Pigeon bay, according to a report brought by Chinese who left Port Arthur Sept. 30. The Russians already apparently are attempting to capture the heavy guns which the Japanese have mounted in that vicinity. The Russians were in considerable force and they made several sorties, dragging field artillery with them. They were unsuccessful, however.

Three junks with 160 coolies arrived here Sunday. They left Port Arthur because they were forced to carry the wounded and bury the dead. They also were afraid that eventually they would have no food, although rice is plentiful now, according to their stories. They further say that the Russians lost heavily during the attacks of Sept. 19 and Sept. 23, but the Japanese loss was much heavier. One of the coolies who had been a water carrier showed a wounded hand that he received Sept. 22. He and four companions went to a well in the center of the town. A shell burst and killed three of his companions and wounded the fourth. The Russian ships were silent during the battle and the hitherto unused merchant ships were, as a result of the fight, turned into hospitals.

Several of the Chinese who were employed in carrying dead say that the dead were so numerous that they were unable to form anything like an estimate of the number who fell in attacking and defending the supplementary forts near Itz mountain. Since the battle both sides continue to shell at intervals daily. The Russians make many small sorties against the Japanese trenches. Small positions frequently change hands. The Chinese say they were compelled to bury the dead by stealth at night for the reason that the Japanese would fire on them.

BOTH SUFFERED SEVERELY.

Russians Tried Hard to Recapture Fort Kuropatkin.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The Russians are reported to be desperately endeavoring to retake their lost positions, including Fort Kuropatkin, in the hope of restoring the water supply of Port Arthur. They are said to have repeatedly assaulted the Japanese after shelling from neighboring forts and batteries. Both sides are said to have suffered severely.

The newly mounted heavy Japanese guns are said to command the entire harbor. The position of the remnant of the Russian Port Arthur fleet is said to be precarious and it is believed the vessels must soon emerge or be destroyed.

Advices from Manchuria are to the effect that the Japanese and Russian outposts and scouts continue in close contact, south, southeast and east of Mukden. Skirmishes are occurring daily, and an aggressive general action is expected soon.

It is believed that the general engagement will take place near Tie pass and that General Kuropatkin is holding Mukden and positions along the Hun river merely to check the Japanese advance temporarily. Snow has fallen in the mountains east of Mukden and there has been frost in the valleys.

TRUCE TO BURY THE DEAD.

Bombardment of Port Arthur Was Afterward Renewed.

London, Oct. 3.—The Chronicle's Liaotung correspondent says there was a truce Saturday at Port Arthur to bury the dead. Russian and Japanese officers, he says, exchanged greetings, after which the bombardment was recommenced with its old vigor. There is little change in the relative positions of the opposing forces.

The Standard's correspondent with the Japanese army says that progress is making with the field railway from Antung which will eventually join with the line at Liaoyang. Its completion, he says, will double the Japanese lines of communication.

The Daily Telegraph's Shantung correspondent, telegraphing Oct. 2, comments on the indecision displayed in the Japanese plans. He says their present scheme around Mukden has been abandoned and that they are awaiting reinforcements from the fall of Port Arthur. There are signs of weakness, The Japanese, the correspondent adds, are pressing for the expulsion of all British and other correspondents from Yinkow, if they should visit that port.

POSITIONS OF OPPOSING FORCES.

Main Body of Russians at Tie Pass and Four Divisions at Mukden.

London, Oct. 3.—The correspondent of the Times, who has just returned from the front, telegraphing from Tokio, says the Russians have two divisions on the Hun river, four divisions at Mukden and that the remainder of the army is concentrated at Tie pass, which they are fortifying. The three Japanese armies, the correspondent adds, occupy a front extending for twenty miles north of Liaoyang in their original order.

DEATH LIST IS LARGE

TWELVE PERSONS ARE DROWNED IN FLOOD AT WATROUS, IN NEW MEXICO.

MANY BRIDGES DESTROYED

HEAVY LOSS TO RAILROAD AND OTHER PROPERTY OCCURS ON GALLINAS RIVER.

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 3.—Half of Watrous has been destroyed by a flood and at least twelve persons were drowned. Among these were the children of J. E. Stevens, F. X. Villar, his wife, two sisters and several children and O. F. Porter. J. E. Stevens and his wife escaped. They are in a critical condition. Many persons were rescued from trees and house tops. The greatest damage was around the junction of Mora and Capello creeks. A rock crusher, an iron bridge and much track at Watrous were washed away.

The Gallinas river formed a new channel at Las Vegas. In the Gallinas canyon, the dam of Acqua Pura creek broke, sending down a flood. Half a dozen bridges were destroyed and the Montezuma bath houses were partly carried away. For two blocks on Bridge street every business house was flooded. The big lifed brick store was ruined and the big bridge undermined. Gallinas park is under water and the trolley line cannot be repaired for two weeks. One hundred thousand dollars will not cover the loss to the town, and the railroad loss is equally great.

RUSSIANS BEAT A RETREAT.

Samsonoff's Forces Driven Back by Oku's Advance Guard.

Mukden, Oct. 3.—Couriers arriving early Sunday after a forced ride from General Samsonoff's field headquarters, bring information of the sudden retreat by that general in the face of a strong and rapid forward movement by Oku's entire army.

An abrupt resumption of the aggressive by Marshal Oyama's left wing was begun Saturday morning. Instead of advancing with their customary caution the Japs rushed into action in a way that indicated either sudden accessions or recklessness or extreme confidence in their strength.

General Oku attacked Samsonoff's Cossacks with infantry and dragoons and in less than twenty minutes the entire Russian front at that point was raked by a severe cross fire from the enemy's batteries.

Several Cossack horse batteries were dismantled before they could be swung into action. Two sotnias of cavalry, fighting dismounted, were thrown on the center with a loss of more than 200 killed and wounded, and in a quarter of an hour the enemy followed that success by turning back both wings of Samsonoff's division and weakening his center with concentrated rifle and machine gun fire.

FRESH JAP TROOPS ARRIVING.

Will Replace Those Who Fell in Battle of Liaoyang.

General Oku's Headquarters in the Field, Oct. 2, via Fusan, Oct. 3.—The first southbound train over the reconstructed railway left Saturday morning, carrying 499 Japanese wounded, 100 sick and 33 wounded Russian prisoners en route to Japan. The wounded are practically the last of the Japanese wounded at the battle of Liaoyang. The hospitals are now devoted to those suffering from beri beri and other diseases. The positions of the Japanese armies remain unchanged. Skirmishes are of daily occurrence. Thousands of fresh Japanese soldiers are arriving.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SUNK.

Destroyed While Trying to Clear Port Arthur Harbor.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The navy department reports the destruction of another Russian steamer used in clearing mines at the entrance of Port Arthur harbor. The steamer struck a mine Sept. 20 and sank.

Navy officials express the opinion that the Russians are suffering from a shortage of small steamers, useful in clearing mines.

The reported loss of a Japanese gunboat south of Liaotung peninsula by striking a mine has not been officially verified.

JAPANESE GUNBOAT SUNK.

Said to Have Struck a Mine Off the Liaotung Peninsula.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—It is rumored that a Japanese gunboat struck a mine and sunk south of the Liaotung peninsula. A portion of the crew reached an island, and were rescued. The name of the gunboat is unknown. They navy department does not deny the report, but says that the department lacks confirmation.

Junk Strikes a Mine.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—A 90-ton junk from Newchwang to Shanghai ran on a mine twenty-five miles north of Chefoo Saturday night. No one was injured. The junk was kept afloat by water-tight compartments, and reached Chefoo with all available hands working at the pumps.

About our Suits and Coats

We feel that we are a bit unfortunate in not being enabled to open our store at an earlier date than October 15th, but we have some inducements which we believe will pay you to wait until we do open. For instance: styles in ladies' garments were not settled until late this year and our stock will show the benefit of a late selection. Then, too, we have taken advantage of some price concessions that we know will prove of interest to you.

We know that you have heard of "largest stocks" and "lowest prices" until you sometimes doubt the veracity of anything you see in printer's ink. However, we believe that we have conclusive evidence that money spent with us will secure the largest selection and the best values.

We trust that you may find it possible to wait until our opening before making a selection.

REGARDING LAND FRAUDS.

Secretary Hitchcock Issues a Statement on the Subject.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock Sunday night gave out a statement in answer to certain charges regarding the method of conducting the investigation into land frauds on the Pacific coast and regarding the steps taken by him to bring the guilty parties to justice. He says:

"Charges are being made and freely circulated by the opponents of the administration to the effect that the investigation of the land frauds by the Interior department is not being seriously and diligently conducted; that criminal prosecutions connected with the investigation are not being pressed with such vigor as to manifest a determination to bring the guilty parties to speedy justice; and that an air of secrecy pervades the department, making it difficult to obtain information as to the progress and present status of the work.

"These charges are utterly without foundation in fact. The investigation has been in the hands of competent officers of the government from the beginning, and has been conducted, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, with the utmost possible speed consistent with thoroughness; the prosecutions, where indictments have been found, have been and are being vigorously pressed; and at no time has there been any attempt to deprive the public of the fullest information as to the progress or status of such prosecutions, or as to any matter in connection therewith."

DEMOCRATIC BLUNDER.

Sent Gold Trimmed Buttons of Parker to the West.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—A blunder has caused the Democratic national committee to issue a double set of campaign buttons, says the Record-Herald this morning. A large number of the buttons were delivered at headquarters recently when the managers were started to find the lineaments of Parker and Davis, both done in a hectic pink, starting from a background of gold.

Thousands of the buttons had been expressed to Western states by the time the discovery was made, and a fear that Bryanites might take umbrage, led the leaders to place an order for a similar button with Parker and Davis ensconced in an environment of silver. These were sent to Nebraska and other Western states, while the gold faced buttons were recalled and distributed elsewhere.

EXPECT ANOTHER SORTIE.

Russians at Shanghai Think Port Arthur Squadron Will Sally Forth.

London, Oct. 3.—In connection with rumors of another projected sortie of the Port Arthur squadron, a Shanghai dispatch says that a Russian warship was expected to arrive at Woosung Sunday night, Russians there having chartered a tender to meet her.

According to a Japanese correspondent in the morning Post, such a sally would only be attempted in the last extremity and when the surrender of the garrison could no longer be postponed. Because the waterworks are in the hands of the besiegers and the shore water condensing apparatus had been ruined by the Japanese shell fire, the correspondent adds the garrison is dependent now upon the condensers of the fleet for fresh water.

Shanghai dispatches to the Standard and the Daily Telegraph are to the effect that a naval battle has been fought off Port Arthur.

Neither of these reports has been confirmed, the correspondent says, and they probably are only surmises.

BLUE LAWS IN KENTUCKY.

Hotels and Saloons Cannot Keep Open Sunday.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—Lexington Sunday experienced its first Sunday under the blue law regime. The restrictions were greater than they will be again. Late in the afternoon the city solicitor discovered that milk wagons and ice wagons are a "necessity" and exempt by law. Only a few milk wagons attempted to run and their drivers were promptly arrested, but later released. About thirty persons were arrested for violating the Sunday law.

The only places open were hotel, livery stables and newspaper offices, the latter two classes having secured injunctions.

FOUR MINERS DROWNED.

Their Skiff Is Run Down by a River Steamer.

Monongahela, Pa., Oct. 3.—While crossing the Monongahela river in a skiff four miners were run down by the steamer Bertha and drowned.

Pugilist Dies of His Injuries.

New York, Oct. 3.—John C. Peters, one of the principals in a boxing match in West Bergen, N. J., died in the ring following a knockout blow in the fourth round Sunday. Patrick Dornady was arrested.

The reported loss of a Japanese gunboat south of Liaotung peninsula by striking a mine has not been officially verified.

JAPANESE GUNBOAT SUNK.

Said to Have Struck a Mine Off the Liaotung Peninsula.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—It is rumored that a Japanese gunboat struck a mine and sunk south of the Liaotung peninsula. A portion of the crew reached an island, and were rescued. The name of the gunboat is unknown. They navy department does not deny the report, but says that the department lacks confirmation.

Junk Strikes a Mine.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—A 90-ton junk from Newchwang to Shanghai ran on a mine twenty-five miles north of Chefoo Saturday night. No one was injured. The junk was kept afloat by water-tight compartments, and reached Chefoo with all available hands working at the pumps.

About our Suits and Coats

We feel that we are a bit unfortunate in not being enabled to open our store at an earlier date than October 15th, but we have some inducements which we believe will pay you to wait until we do open. For instance: styles in ladies' garments were not settled until late this year and our stock will show the benefit of a late selection. Then, too, we have taken advantage of some price concessions that we know will prove of interest to you.

We know that you have heard of "largest stocks" and "lowest prices" until you sometimes doubt the veracity of anything you see in printer's ink. However, we believe that we have conclusive evidence that money spent with us will secure the largest selection and the best values.

We trust that you may find it possible to wait until our opening before making a selection.

REGARDING LAND FRAUDS.

Secretary Hitchcock Issues a Statement on the Subject.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock Sunday night gave out a statement in answer to certain charges regarding the method of conducting the investigation into land frauds on the Pacific coast and regarding the steps taken by him to bring the guilty parties to justice. He says:

"Charges are being made and freely circulated by the opponents of the administration to the effect that the investigation of the land frauds by the interior department is not being seriously and diligently conducted; that criminal prosecutions connected with the investigation are not being pressed with such vigor as to manifest a determination to bring the guilty parties to speedy justice; and that an air of secrecy pervades the department, making it difficult to obtain information as to the progress and present status of the work.

"These charges are utterly without foundation in fact. The investigation has been in the hands of competent officers of the government from the beginning, and has been conducted, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, with the utmost possible speed consistent with thoroughness; the prosecutions, where indictments have been found, have been and are being vigorously pressed; and at no time has there been any attempt to deprive the public of the fullest information as to the progress or status of such prosecutions, or as to any matter in connection therewith."

DEMOCRATIC BLUNDER.

Sent Gold Trimmed Buttons of Parker to the West.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—A blunder has caused the Democratic national committee to issue a double set of campaign buttons, says the Record-Herald this morning. A large number of the buttons were delivered at headquarters recently when the managers were started to find the lineaments of Parker and Davis, both done in a hectic pink, starting from a background of gold.

Thousands of the buttons had been expressed to Western states by the time the discovery was made, and a fear that Bryanites might take umbrage, led the leaders to place an order for a similar button with Parker and Davis ensconced in an environment of silver. These were sent to Nebraska and other Western states, while the gold faced buttons were recalled and distributed elsewhere.

EXPECT ANOTHER SORTIE.

Russians at Shanghai Think Port Arthur Squadron Will Sally Forth.

London, Oct. 3.—In connection with rumors of another projected sortie of the Port Arthur squadron, a Shanghai dispatch says that a Russian warship was expected to arrive at Woosung Sunday night, Russians there having chartered a tender to meet her.

According to a Japanese correspondent in the morning Post, such a sally would only be attempted in the last extremity and when the surrender of the garrison could no longer be postponed. Because the waterworks are in the hands of the besiegers and the shore water condensing apparatus had been ruined by the Japanese shell fire, the correspondent adds the garrison is dependent now upon the condensers of the fleet for fresh water.

Shanghai dispatches to the Standard and the Daily Telegraph are to the effect that a naval battle has been fought off Port Arthur.

Neither of these reports has been confirmed, the correspondent says, and they probably are only surmises.

BLUE LAWS IN KENTUCKY.

Hotels and Saloons Cannot Keep Open Sunday.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—Lexington Sunday experienced its first Sunday under the blue law regime. The restrictions were greater than they will be again. Late in the afternoon the city solicitor discovered that milk wagons and ice wagons are a "necessity" and exempt by law. Only a few milk wagons attempted to run and their drivers were promptly arrested, but later released. About thirty persons were arrested for violating the Sunday law.

The only places open were hotel, livery stables and newspaper offices, the latter two classes having secured injunctions.

FOUR MINERS DROWNED.

Their Skiff Is Run Down by a River Steamer.

Monongahela, Pa., Oct. 3.—While crossing the Monongahela river in a skiff four miners were run down by the steamer Bertha and drowned.

Pugilist Dies of His Injuries.

New York, Oct. 3.—John C. Peters, one of the principals in a boxing match in West Bergen, N. J., died in the ring following a knockout blow in the fourth round Sunday. Patrick Dormady was arrested.

STILL HELD BY JAPS

RUSSIANS UNABLE TO RETAKE THE CAPTURED FORTS AT PORT ARTHUR.

BALTIC FLEET IS TO SAIL

MAY START FOR THE FAR EAST REGARDLESS OF FATE OF RUSSIAN FORTRESS.

Efforts by the Russians to retake positions commanding the water supply of Port Arthur have resulted in hard fighting the losses on both sides being reported to have been heavy. The Japanese retain the contested ground. It is said that heavy guns newly mounted threaten the Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur, which may now be forced to go out and face the fleet of Admiral Togo. There is a report that a Japanese gunboat was sunk by coming in contact with a mine south of the Liaotung peninsula; the report adds that a portion of the crew were rescued.

The Japanese have completed the changing of the gauge of the railway from Dainy to Newchwang and its equipment is nearly finished; this will be of great assistance to the armies in Manchuria.

The Russian admiralty has decided to dispatch the Baltic squadron in the direction of the far East within a short time; events are expected, however, to determine whether the vessels shall proceed to their destination or return to Russian ports to await reinforcements.

BALTIC WARSHIPS WILL SOON START FOR THE SCENE OF CONFLICT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 3.—Announcement is made that Emperor Nicholas will visit Reval on Tuesday to bid farewell to the Baltic squadron. After months of preparation and several false starts, it is believed that the squadron is at last on the eve of its departure upon its long journey. A division in the admiralty has existed throughout the period of preparation regarding the advisability of sending out the squadron, but with the decision to double the size of the Manchurian army and press the war with vigor, the logic of those who for months have insisted that every available ship should be dispatched to the far East has finally prevailed. The argument that no complete victory over the Japanese is possible unless the command of the sea is wrested from them, could not be overcome, and though much valuable time has been lost and the moment seems inauspicious, it is officially intimated that an irrevocable decision has been taken to dispatch the Baltic fleet, even if the Port Arthur squadron should be annihilated before its arrival there.

It is realized that the squadron, which, on paper is about equal in fighting strength to that of the Japanese fleet, will be much better able to encounter the foe now than next spring, after the Japanese ships have had all winter to repair and refit.

While hopes are still entertained that Port Arthur may be able to hold out until the appearance of the Baltic fleet, the question of the fall of that stronghold does not apparently enter greatly into the calculations of the admiralty. The only thing expected of the Port Arthur squadron is to break out of the harbor and inflict as much damage as possible upon Admiral Togo's fleet. Such ships as escape are expected to make their way to Vladivostok, where the repairs upon the cruiser Bogatyr are understood to have been practically completed and those on the Rossia and Gromoboi are nearing completion.

Sea Fight to Determine Conflict.

The question of the war in the far East will depend upon the issue of a sea fight after the arrival of the Baltic fleet. Vladivostok, although ice-bound in winter for commercial ships, can easily be kept open for a fleet of war vessels by means of icebreakers. If the Japanese fleet is caught in such a weakened condition that the Baltic ships are able to win a victory, officials here hold that other problems will solve themselves, and with Japanese communications severed, the Japanese army on the mainland will be at the mercy of Russia.

This boldly announced programme seems to stake the whole issue upon sea fighting.

The Japanese ships, it must be remembered, have been in active service seven months. No matter how greatly the efficiency of the guns and the speed of the vessels have been impaired, the crews of Admiral Togo's ships have enjoyed the prestige of continuous victories, while opposed to them will be a fleet of brand new ships, more or less untried and none of which have fired a shot in actual warfare, and whose crews have never yet been under fire.

But important conditions are attached to the programme outlined above. According to this information the Baltic fleet will be started to the far East, but the continuation of the voyage to its destination will depend primarily upon how the ships themselves stand the test of actual sailing, and second upon developments in the far East. Should all go well with the squadron on the voyage and Rear Admiral Wren be able to strike a telling blow upon Admiral Togo, even if half his ships go to the bottom, the Baltic squadron will be hurried on with all possible speed. If defects develop in the vessels or if Wren fails utterly, the squadron can at the worst return and await the completion of other ships now building.

SEVERE FIGHTING OCCURS.

Russians Try to Recapture Forts From the Japs.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—Severe fighting, the Russians being the aggressors, occurred Sept. 28 and 29 on the west shore of Liaoti promontory near Pigeon bay, according to a report brought by Chinese who left Port Arthur Sept. 30. The Russians already apparently are attempting to capture the heavy guns which the Japanese have mounted in that vicinity. The Russians were in considerable force and they made several sorties, dragging field artillery with them. They were unsuccessful, however.

Three junks with 160 coolies arrived here Sunday. They left Port Arthur because they were forced to carry the wounded and bury the dead. They also were afraid that eventually they would have no food, although rice is plentiful now, according to their stories. They further say that the Russians lost heavily during the attacks of Sept. 19 and Sept. 23, but the Japanese loss was much heavier. One of the coolies who had been a water carrier showed a wounded hand that he received Sept. 22. He and four companions went to a well in the center of the town. A shell burst and killed three of his companions and wounded the fourth. The Russian ships were silent during the battle and the hitherto unused merchant ships were, as a result of the fight, turned into hospitals.

Several of the Chinese who were employed in carrying dead say that the dead were so numerous that they were unable to form anything like an estimate of the number who fell in attacking and defending the supplementary forts near Itz mountain. Since the battle both sides continue to shell at intervals daily. The Russians make many small sorties against the Japanese trenches. Small positions frequently change hands. The Chinese say they were compelled to bury the dead by stealth at night for the reason that the Japanese would fire on them.

BOTH SUFFERED SEVERELY.

Russians Tried Hard to Recapture Fort Kuropatkin.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The Russians are reported to be desperately endeavoring to retake their lost positions, including Fort Kuropatkin, in the hope of restoring the water supply of Port Arthur. They are said to have repeatedly assaulted the Japanese after shelling from neighboring forts and batteries. Both sides are said to have suffered severely.

The newly mounted heavy Japanese guns are said to command the entire harbor. The position of the remnant of the Russian Port Arthur fleet is said to be precarious and it is believed the vessels must soon emerge or be destroyed.

Advices from Manchuria are to the effect that the Japanese and Russian outposts and scouts continue in close contact, south, southeast and east of Mukden. Skirmishes are occurring daily, and an aggressive general action is expected soon.

It is believed that the general engagement will take place near Tie pass and that General Kuropatkin is holding Mukden and positions along the Hun river merely to check the Japanese advance temporarily. Snow has fallen in the mountains east of Mukden and there has been frost in the valleys.

TRUCE TO BURY THE DEAD.

Bombardment of Port Arthur Was Afterward Renewed.

London, Oct. 3.—The Chronicle's Liaotung correspondent says there was a truce Saturday at Port Arthur to bury the dead. Russian and Japanese officers, he says, exchanged greetings, after which the bombardment was recommenced with its old vigor. There is little change in the relative positions of the opposing forces.

The Standard's correspondent with the Japanese army says that progress is making with the field railway from Antung which will eventually join with the line at Liaoyang. Its completion, he says, will double the Japanese lines of communication.

The Daily Telegraph's Shimonin correspondent, telegraphing Oct. 2, comments on the indecision displayed in the Japanese plans. He says their present scheme around Mukden has been abandoned and that they are awaiting reinforcements from the fall of Port Arthur. There are signs of weakness. The Japanese, the correspondent adds, are pressing for the expulsion of all British and other correspondents from Yinkow, if they should visit that port.

POSITIONS OF OPPOSING FORCES.

Main Body of Russians at Tie Pass and Four Divisions at Mukden.

London, Oct. 3.—The correspondent of the Times, who has just returned from the front, telegraphing from Tokio, says the Russians have two divisions on the Hun river, four divisions at Mukden and that the remainder of the army is concentrated at Tie pass, which they are fortifying. The three Japanese armies, the correspondent adds, occupy a front extending for twenty miles north of Liaoyang in their original order.

DEATH LIST IS LARGE

TWELVE PERSONS ARE DROWNED IN FLOOD AT WATROUS, IN NEW MEXICO.

MANY BRIDGES DESTROYED

HEAVY LOSS TO RAILROAD AND OTHER PROPERTY OCCURS ON GALLINAS RIVER.

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 3.—Half of Watrous has been destroyed by a flood and at least twelve persons were drowned. Among these were the children of J. E. Stevens, F. X. Villierat, his wife, two sisters and several children and O. F. Porter. J. E. Stevens and his wife escaped. They are in a critical condition. Many persons were rescued from trees and house tops. The greatest damage was around the junction of Mora and Capello creeks. A rock crusher, an iron bridge and much track at Watrous were washed away.

The Gallinas river formed a new channel at Las Vegas. In the Gallinas canyon, the dam of Acquia Pura creek broke, sending down a flood. Half a dozen bridges were destroyed and the Montezuma bath houses were partly carried away. For two blocks on Bridge street every business house was flooded. The big lifed brick store was ruined and the big bridge undermined. Gallinas park is under water and the trolley line cannot be repaired for two weeks. One hundred thousand dollars will not cover the loss to the town, and the railroad loss is equally great.

RUSSIANS BEAT A RETREAT.

Samsonoff's Forces Driven Back by Oku's Advance Guard.

Mukden, Oct. 3.—Couriers arriving early Sunday after a forced ride from General Samsonoff's field headquarters, bring information of the sudden retreat by that general in the face of a strong and rapid forward movement by Oku's entire army.

An abrupt resumption of the aggressive by Marshal Oyama's left wing was begun Saturday morning. Instead of advancing with their customary caution the Japs rushed into action in a way that indicated either sudden accessions or recklessness or extreme confidence in their strength.

General Oku attacked Samsonoff's Cossacks with infantry and dragons and in less than twenty minutes the entire Russian front at that point was raked by a severe cross fire from the enemy's batteries.

Several Cossack horse batteries were dismantled before they could be swung into action. Two sotnias of cavalry, fighting dismounted, were thrown on the center with a loss of more than 300 killed and wounded, and in a quarter of an hour the enemy followed that success by turning back both wings of Samsonoff's division and weakening his center with concentrated rifle and machine gun fire.

FRESH JAP TROOPS ARRIVING.

Will Replace Those Who Fell in Battle of Liaoyang.

General Oku's Headquarters in the Field, Oct. 2, via Pusan, Oct. 3.—The first southbound train over the reconstructed railway left Saturday morning, carrying 490 Japanese wounded, 100 sick and 33 wounded Russian prisoners en route to Japan. The wounded are practically the last of the Japanese wounded at the battle of Liaoyang. The hospitals are now devoted to those suffering from beri beri and other diseases. The positions of the Japanese armies remain unchanged. Skirmishes are of daily occurrence. Thousands of fresh Japanese soldiers are arriving.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SUNK.

Destroyed While Trying to Clear Port Arthur Harbor.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The navy department reports the destruction of another Russian steamer used in clearing mines at the entrance of Port Arthur harbor. The steamer struck a mine Sept. 20 and sank.

Navy officials express the opinion that the Russians are suffering from a shortage of small steamers, useful in clearing mines.

The reported loss of a Japanese gunboat south of Liaotung peninsula by striking a mine has not been officially verified.

JAPANESE GUNBOAT SUNK.

Said to Have Struck a Mine Off the Liaotung Peninsula.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—It is rumored that a Japanese gunboat struck a mine and sunk south of the Liaotung peninsula. A portion of the crew reached an island, and were rescued. The name of the gunboat is unknown. They navy department does not deny the report, but says that the department lacks confirmation.

Junk Strikes a Mine.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—A 90-ton junk from Newchwang to Shanghai ran on a mine twenty-five miles north of Chefoo Saturday night. No one was injured. The junk was kept afloat by water-tight compartments, and reached Chefoo with all available hands working at the pumps.

REGARDING LAND FRAUDS.

Secretary Hitchcock Issues a Statement on the Subject.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock Sunday night gave out a statement in answer to certain charges regarding the method of conducting the investigation into land frauds on the Pacific coast and regarding the steps taken by him to bring the guilty parties to justice. He says:

"Charges are being made and freely circulated by the opponents of the administration to the effect that the investigation of the land frauds by the interior department is not being seriously and diligently conducted; that criminal prosecutions connected with such vigor as to manifest a determination to bring the guilty parties to speedy justice; and that an air of secrecy pervades the department, making it difficult to obtain information as to the progress and present status of the work."

"These charges are utterly without foundation in fact. EXPECT ANOTHER SORTIE.

Russians at Shanghai Think Port Arthur Squadron Will Sally Forth.

London, Oct. 3.—In connection with rumors of another projected sortie of the Port Arthur squadron, a Shanghai dispatch says that a Russian warship was expected to arrive at Woosung Sunday night, Russians there having chartered a tender to meet her.

According to a Japanese correspondent in the morning Post, such a sally would only be attempted in the last extremity and when the surrender of the garrison could no longer be postponed. Because the waterworks are in the hands of the besiegers and the shore water condensing apparatus had been ruined by the Japanese shell fire, the correspondent adds the garrison is dependent now upon the condensers of the fleet for fresh water. Shanghai dispatches to the Standard and the Daily Telegraph are to the effect that a naval battle has been fought off Port Arthur.

Neither of these reports has been confirmed, the correspondent says, and they probably are only surmises.

TENDENCY FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Domestic and Foreign Trade Both
Picking Up Steadily.

New York, Oct. 3.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says while there are diverse movements in domestic and foreign trade, the tendency as a whole is for improvement along conservative lines. Buoyancy in the stock market, possibly largely manipulated, and the strength of cereal prices are factors stimulating to trade, but the advance of the fall season, with cooler weather in some sections, and the prospect of good returns to the agricultural interests despite the heavy shorts in the wheat yield, are all elements tending to encourage buying. The feeling in many lines is that as the season advances and the corn crop situation becomes clearer the need of additional reorders will result in a fair volume of trade, comparing better with fall business a year ago than did last spring's trade with the corresponding period of 1903. Railway earnings reflect heavy traffic, railroads are already reporting a gain of 34 per cent over last August and the best ever recorded for that month. A fair expansion in Western trade is recorded, though buying from the corn growing sections is still cautious. Trade is brisker at nearly all Pacific coast points. Southern trade advances are best from the section east of the Mississippi. At the East jobbing trade in dry goods has improved and some rush orders for shoes are noted.

T. ROOSEVELT PARKER.

Man With Bipartisan Name Would Enlist in the Navy.

The bureau of navigation in Washington has received a request from Representative Bell of the Second congressional district of California for the enlistment in the navy and assignment to the battleship Ohio of one of his constituents named Theodore Roosevelt Parker.

The applicant, it appears, really bears the name of Theodore Roosevelt Parker, and it was not recently assumed, as is shown by the fact that the records of the marine corps disclose his enlistment under that name at Seattle, Wash., July 12, 1901. Parker was born in San Francisco and was a machinist when he enlisted in the marine corps. His father bore the same name.

It is said that the family is a branch of an old Pennsylvania family of Rosevelts not connected in any way with that of President Roosevelt. Representative Bell's request will be granted.

Red Hair and Sunstroke.

Nobody ever heard of a red headed man being sunstruck. Why a red head should afford any protection from the rays of the sun or give its owner immunity from one of the most singular afflictions that humanity is heir to is one of those mysteries that even the doctors cannot fathom, but the fact remains that men with red hair can stand almost any amount of exertion in or out of doors during the hottest weather and never feel any serious results from it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TENDENCY FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Domestic and Foreign Trade Both Picking Up Steadily.

New York, Oct. 3.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says while there are diverse movements in domestic and foreign trade, the tendency as a whole is for improvement along conservative lines. buoyancy in the stock market, possibly largely manipulated, and the strength of cereal prices are factors stimulating to trade, but the advance of the fall season, with cooler weather in some sections, and the prospect of good returns to the agricultural interests despite the heavy shortage in the wheat yield, are all elements tending to encourage buying. The feeling in many lines is that as the season advances and the corn crop situation becomes clearer the need of additional reorders will result in a fair volume of trade, comparing better with fall business a year ago than did last spring's trade with the corresponding period of 1903. Railway earnings reflect heavy traffic, railroads are already reporting a gain of 34 per cent over last August and the best ever recorded for that month. A fair expansion in Western trade is recorded, though buying from the corn growing sections is still cautious. Trade is brisker at nearly all Pacific coast points. Southern trade advances are best from the section east of the Mississippi. At the East jobbing trade in dry goods has improved and some rush orders for shoes are noted.

George Gardiner of Lowell, Mass., and Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo., fought a ten-round draw before the Denver Athletic club Friday night.

Three brothers were injured, one of them, Christ Odell, probably fatally at St. Paul Friday by a street car striking the wagon in which they were riding.

Major Delmar failed in an attempt to lower his world's trotting record of 2:02 1/4 at the Readville (Mass.) tracks Friday. The time for the mile was 2:02 3/4.

The Western Golf association team defeated the Transmississippi team in the special team match at St. Louis Friday by a score of 20 1/2 points against 15 1/2.

T. ROSEVELT PARKER.

Man With Partisan Name Would Enlist in the Navy.

The bureau of navigation in Washington has received a request from Representative Bell of the Second congressional district of California for the enlistment in the navy and assignment to the battleship Ohio of one of his constituents named Theodore Roosevelt Parker.

The applicant, it appears, really bears the name of Theodore Roosevelt Parker, and it was not recently assumed, as is shown by the fact that the records of the marine corps disclose his enlistment under that name at Seattle, Wash., July 12, 1901. Parker was born in San Francisco and was a machinist when he enlisted in the marine corps. His father bore the same name.

It is said that the family is a branch of an old Pennsylvania family of Rosevelts not connected in any way with that of President Roosevelt. Representative Bell's request will be granted.

Red Hair and Sunstroke.

Nobody ever heard of a red headed man being sunstruck. Why a red head should afford any protection from the rays of the sun or give its owner immunity from one of the most singular affections that humanity is heir to is one of those mysteries that even the doctors cannot fathom, but the fact remains that men with red hair can stand almost any amount of exertion in or out of doors during the hottest weather and never feel any serious results from it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MYSTERIOUS METALS.

Discoverer of Helium on the Future of Radio Active Elements.

Sir William Ramsay, the eminent English chemist who discovered helium and argon and who has experimented extensively with radium, is now visiting this country. In a recent interview with a New York Tribune reporter he talked interestingly of the mysterious radio active elements. Among other things he said:

In England the strange properties of radium have excited a surprising degree of popular interest. I gave a lecture on the subject in a hall holding 3,500 people. The building was crowded, and much enthusiasm was manifested. We cannot yet say what will come from these discoveries. When I am asked of what use they are I answer: "Oh, what use is a baby? Let it grow up and see!"

Of the various theories advanced to account for the evolution of heat and the other strange forms of radiation from radium and allied elements the most satisfactory seems to be that some of the atoms in those substances are disintegrating and in doing so liberate stored energy. A few physicists like Lord Kelvin were at one time disposed to fancy that the energy was first absorbed from some external source and then given off again. Not having compared notes lately with Lord Kelvin, I am not sure how far he has modified his views. If we judge from the rate at which gas is evolved from radium, or salt of radium, it seems probable that any given mass of it would completely decay and disappear in about 2,500 years. The life of the three or four other radio active metals is very much longer.

The theory that an atom is made up of much smaller particles, which are held together by electric attraction, and is the seat of stored energy is of philosophic importance mainly. It greatly modifies our conceptions of the nature of matter, but at present it has no apparent bearing on the practical work of the chemist. The old formulae which were based on the notion of indivisibility are still serviceable, our new understanding of the atom, however, may eventually lead to unexpected results. I have been engaged in researches which are not yet complete, but which encourage me to think that the "electronic" theory of atoms has a career of practical usefulness before it.

Professor Baskerville's belief that he has found two previously unrecognized elements in thorium has much commended it. There is independent evidence of the complexity of thorium, have myself been investigating the subject. Until I have a chance to talk further with your fellow countryman, however, I find it hard to express an opinion. As for the so called N rays, which on the part of Nancy professes to have found, I can only say that thus far no one but Frenchmen have been able to detect them.

THE FIRST NIGHT TRAIN.

It Was Run Out of Cumberland by Henry G. Davis.

Henry Gassaway Davis found his first advancement when he secured the coveted position of brakeman on a freight train of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, says Leslie's Weekly. It was not long before he was advanced to the more responsible position of freight conductor, responsible in these days, but far more so relatively in those. At twenty-four he was again promoted, this time to the position of superintendent in charge of the running of all the trains.

He introduced an innovation which marked a decided advance step in railroading. Up to that time it had not been considered practicable to run trains at night. When nightfall came freight trains and passenger trains alike were "tied up," their journeys to be resumed only when daylight came. Davis held that there was no good reason why they should not be run by night as well as by day and proved it. His first night train from Cumberland to Baltimore marked an important epoch in railroading.

MR. ASTOR CAME.

How Joseph Chamberlain's Monocle Aided the Expatiate's Flunkey.

The very latest London anecdote concerning William Waldorf Astor, who is now paying a brief visit to the land of his nativity, dates from a certain dinner party given by the eccentric expatriate at which the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and his wife were guests.

The two started in ample time, but owing to a street blockade were delayed and arrived one minute late. Ushered into the reception room, they found it vacant. The guests had been seated promptly on the stroke of the hour.

Mr. Chamberlain wasn't worried. "Tell Mr. Astor to come and conduct Mrs. Chamberlain to the table," he said in his blandest tone to the flunkey.

"Y-y-yes, sir," said the servant, with one glance at the awe inspiring monocle.

He must have delivered the message. Mr. Astor came.

Enough Said.

Discovering the Kangaroo.

In the year 1770 Captain Cook sailed into Botany bay in his ship, the Endeavor. A foraging or exploring party brought back to him the news of the discovery of a new and strangely formed animal. It was described as mouse colored in hue and of the size of a greyhound. But that which struck Cook's men as most singular was its movements. "It sprang or leaped with great swiftness, by the aid of its long hind limbs," while the possession of a strong tail was also noted. On July 14 a Mr. Gore, one of Cook's party, shot a kangaroo, the name by which the animal was known to the natives. At their dinner on Sunday, July 15, 1770, they dined off kangaroo joint and pronounced the meat to be excellent eating. As early as 1711, however, a Dutch traveler in Australia, of the name of De Bruins, had captured a kangaroo, which he took to Batavia alive, so that Cook practically rediscovered the family.

An Unnecessary Distinction.

The two expressions "by and by" and "by the bye" are really derived from the same original word, and the words "by" and "bye" have the same general sense. But the spelling "bye" has long been used in the second of these phrases without any real reason for the change. We should not speak of a bye law or a bye path, and yet many are careful to write "by the bye" and "by the by." In "goodbye" there might be some reason for keeping the final "e," since it stands for the word "ye," but where so much has been dropped the "e" is hardly worth keeping, especially as the old meaning is seldom recalled.—St. Nicholas.

A Ninety-year-old "Cop."

"Uncle" William Shaver, aged ninety years, was one of the force of special police who served at the county fair recently held at Chatham, N. Y. He was a conspicuous figure with his red badge bearing the word "police." He kept a careful watch for pickpockets and other lawbreakers, but the crowd was an orderly one, and the bulk of his duties consisted in making passageways through crowded aisles in the buildings or preventing teams from being driven on forbidden ground. He worked during all four days of the exhibition and with greater agility than some men his juniors.

Sensitive.

The Groom (at the first hotel)—It's no use, Clara; we can't hide it from people that we are newly married. The Bride—What makes you think so, George, dear? The Groom (dejectedly)—Why, the waiter has brought us rice pudding.

Kings of Finance Forced to Borrow of a Stenographer.

It happened recently, says the New York Globe, that Chauncey M. Depew, James J. Hill, William Rockefeller, James Stillman and J. Pierpont Morgan attended the same board meeting in a big bank building downtown. During the session a district telegraph messenger presented himself with a note and a package for Senator Depew. On the package was written, "Collect $1.40," and the boy waited for the cash.

The senator pulled out two or three quarters and some small coin, and after a fruitless exploration of his waistcoat and trousers pockets turned to Mr. Rockefeller, who was sitting near him, and said in the most matter of fact way, "Pay the boy, will you, Rockefeller?"

"Certainly," was the response, and Mr. Rockefeller produced a dollar bill. "How much is it? Eh—$1.40? Well, I don't believe that I have got as much as that. Let's see; no, I can't make it." "What's wanted?" asked Mr. Morgan briskly. "One dollar and forty cents? No, I haven't got it. That is too much money to carry around loose in one's pocket. Here, Stillman, you are a banker. You pay the bill. I'll guarantee Depew."

With his usual imperturbable manner Mr. Stillman took a neatly folded fifty dollar bill out of a very thin pocketbook and tendered it to the boy, who merely glanced at it and grinned. "I have nothing else," said the bank president.

Senator Depew was busy reading his note and paid no further attention to the messenger, who turned an inquiring eye on James J. Hill as the only one not yet called upon. Without investigating the state of his personal exchequer Mr. Hill called out to the stenographer, "Here, Alfred, give this boy his money and charge it to Depew."

The messenger received the money without further delay and went away, doubtless with an altered idea of what it is to be a millionaire.

Novel Experiment in Reformation of Youthful Criminals.

An interesting experiment is at present being made with youthful English criminals of from sixteen to twenty-one years of age, according to the London Chronicle. Each class or grade is kept apart from the others and wears a distinctive dress, according to whether it is penal, ordinary or special. The last grade is the highest and contains those whose conduct is most satisfactory.

The most important point of the code is employment in association in workshops or in outdoor labor, such as farming, gardening, etc., so that while the subjects are undergoing punishment they are also being specially instructed in useful trades and industries.

Special attention is given to their education by instruction in the ordinary subjects of the elementary education code, by lectures and addresses and by their being provided with books.

Before the prisoner's discharge arrangements are made with some philanthropic society or benevolent person to aid in supervising his future.

At the young convict settlement of Bostal, Chatham, these experiments are achieving very successful results.

I have myself been investigating the subject. Until I have a chance to talk over with your fellow countryman, however, I find it hard to express an opinion.

As for the so called N rays, which E. C. Rutherford of Nancy professes to have found, I can only say that thus far no one but Frenchmen have been able to detect them.

THE FIRST NIGHT TRAIN.

It Was Run Out of Cumberland by Henry G. Davis.

Henry Gassaway Davis found his first advancement when he secured the coveted position of brakeman on a freight train of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, says Leslie's Weekly. It was not long before he was advanced to the more responsible position of freight conductor, responsible in these days, but far more so relatively in those. At twenty-four he was again promoted, this time to the position of superintendent in charge of the running of all the trains.

He introduced an innovation which marked a decided advance step in railroading. Up to that time it had not been considered practicable to run trains at night. When nightfall came freight trains and passenger trains alike were "tied up," their journeys to be resumed only when daylight came. Davis held that there was no good reason why they should not be run by night as well as by day and proved it. His first night train from Cumberland to Baltimore marked an important epoch in railroading.

MR. ASTOR CAME.

How Joseph Chamberlain's Monocle Aided the Expatiate's Flunkey.

The very latest London anecdote concerning William Waldorf Astor, who is now paying a brief visit to the land of his nativity, dates from a certain dinner party given by the eccentric expatriate at which the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and his wife were guests. The two started in ample time, but owing to a street blockade were delayed and arrived one minute late. Rushed into the reception room, they found it vacant. The guests had been seated promptly on the stroke of the hour.

Mr. Chamberlain wasn't worried. "Tell Mr. Astor to come and conduct Mrs. Chamberlain to the table," he said in his blandest tone to the flunkey.

"Y-y-yes, sir," said the servant, with one glance at the awe inspiring monocle.

He must have delivered the message. Mr. Astor came.

Enough Said.

Discovering the Kangaroo.

In the year 1770 Captain Cook sailed into Botany bay in his ship, the Endeavor. A foraging or exploring party brought back to him the news of the discovery of a new and strangely formed animal. It was described as mouse colored in hue and of the size of a greyhound. But that which struck Cook's men as most singular was its movements. "It sprang or leaped with great swiftness, by the aid of its long hind limbs," while the possession of a strong tail was also noted. On July 14 a Mr. Gore, one of Cook's party, shot a kangaroo, the name by which the animal was known to the natives. At their dinner on Sunday, July 15, 1770, they dined off kangaroo joint and pronounced the meat to be excellent eating. As early as 1711, however, a Dutch traveler in Australia, of the name of De Bruins, had captured a kangaroo, which he took to Batavia alive, so that Cook practically rediscovered the family.

An Unnecessary Distinction.

The two expressions "by and by" and "by the bye" are really derived from the same original word, and the words "by" and "bye" have the same general sense. But the spelling "bye" has long been used in the second of these phrases without any real reason for the change. We should not speak of a bye law or a bye path, and yet many are careful to write "by the bye" and "by the by." In "goodbye" there might be some reason for keeping the final "e," since it stands for the word "ye" in the shortened form of "God be with ye," but where so much has been dropped the "e" is hardly worth keeping, especially as the old meaning is seldom recalled.—St. Nicholas.

A Ninety-year-old "Cop."

"Uncle" William Shaver, aged ninety years, was one of the force of special police who served at the county fair recently held at Chatham, N. Y. He was a conspicuous figure with his red badge bearing the word "police." He kept a careful watch for pickpockets and other lawbreakers, but the bulk of his duties consisted in making passageways through crowded aisles in the buildings or preventing teams from being driven on forbidden ground. He worked during all four days of the exhibition and with greater agility than some men his juniors.

Sensitive.

COULDN'T RAISE $1.40.

Kings of Finance Forced to Borrow of a Stenographer.

It happened recently, says the New York Globe, that Chauncey M. Depew, James J. Hill, William Rockefeller, James Stillman and J. Pierpont Morgan attended the same board meeting in a big bank building downtown. During the session a district telegraph messenger presented himself with a note and a package for Senator Depew. On the package was written, "Collect $1.40," and the boy waited for the cash.

The senator pulled out two or three quarters and some small coin, and after a fruitless exploration of his waistcoat and trousers pockets turned to Mr. Rockefeller, who was sitting near him, and said in the most matter of fact way, "Pay the boy, will you, Rockefeller?"

"Certainly," was the response, and Mr. Rockefeller produced a dollar bill. "How much is it? Eh—$1.40? Well, I don't believe that I have got as much as that. Let's see; no, I can't make it." "What's wanted?" asked Mr. Morgan briskly. "One dollar and forty cents? No, I haven't got it. That is too much money to carry around loose in one's pocket. Here, Stillman, you are a banker. You pay the bill. I'll guarantee Depew."

With his usual imperturbable manner Mr. Stillman took a neatly folded fifty dollar bill out of a very thin pocketbook and tendered it to the boy, who merely glanced at it and grinned. "I have nothing else," said the bank president.

Senator Depew was busy reading his note and paid no further attention to the messenger, who turned an inquiring eye on James J. Hill as the only one not yet called upon. Without investigating the state of his personal exchequer Mr. Hill called out to the stenographer, "Here, Alfred, give this boy his money and charge it to Depew."

The messenger received the money without further delay and went away, doubtless with an altered idea of what it is to be a millionaire.

CONVICTS AS FARMERS.

Novel Experiment in Reformation of Youthful Criminals.

An interesting experiment is at present being made with youthful English criminals of from sixteen to twenty-one years of age, according to the London Chronicle. Each class or grade is kept apart from the others and wears a distinctive dress, according to whether it is penal, ordinary or special. The last grade is the highest and contains those whose conduct is most satisfactory.

The most important point of the code is employment in association in workshops or in outdoor labor, such as farming, gardening, etc., so that while the subjects are undergoing punishment they are also being specially instructed in useful trades and industries.

Special attention is given to their education by instruction in the ordinary subjects of the elementary education code, by lectures and addresses and by their being provided with books.

Before the prisoner's discharge arrangements are made with some philanthropic society or benevolent person to aid in supervising his future.

At the young convict settlement of Bostal, Chatham, these experiments are achieving very successful results.

Insanity, Death or Health?

No. 2907 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 1903.

I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness for eighteen months, unable to get a proper night's rest and feeling tired and worn out continually. I was easily irritated and hysterical at the slightest provocation, but Wine of Cardui gave me great relief. Within a week after I began using it I had my first real good night's rest that I had had for months. My appetite was soon restored, my general system toned up and nervousness became a thing of the past.

I am so pleased to acknowledge the great curative merit of your health giving medicine and gladly endorse it.

Harriet O. Best
CHAIRMAN, LADIES OF HONOR, No. 97.

WINE OF CARDUI

We want to call your attention to the complete and immediate relief Mrs. Best secured by taking Wine of Cardui. Within a week after she began taking Wine of Cardui, Mrs. Best had her first good night's rest for eighteen months. Her restlessness was caused by nervousness and Wine of Cardui, as the best menstrual regulator, has no superior in the world as a medicine to soothe a woman's nerves. Nervousness and hysteria are warnings of the approach of insanity and if relief is not secured the end can only be the asylum or the grave. With such an outlook as this before her, no suffering woman can reasonably refuse to give Wine of Cardui a trial. It brings a cure that thousands of women have sought for in vain. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and start treatment? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING Explorations for Ore in Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties Says the Journal

WORK HAS ONLY COMMENCED Expert Writes About Business in Minnesota—Devotes Space to this Section.

An expert in the ore business in writing about the output and the general conditions in this line in Northern Minnesota devotes some little space to the explorations made in this and Aitkin counties and has the following encouraging report to make:

"Reports from the new district in Aitkin and Crow Wing counties, Minnesota, where some exploration has been under way, are more encouraging, and are may be found in merchantable quantity and quality. At one exploration it is said forty feet of 60 per cent ore has been cut with a drill, but this is not to be taken without confirmation. It has been stated recently in print that the United States Steel corporation holds options on five or six thousand acres and has recently taken 4,000 more to explore and that its work-holes have shown as much as 160 feet of 54 per cent ore. This is an error. The Steel corporation has abandoned its options in that section and says that it has found considerable quantities of ore running as high as 40 per cent, but little better. Its drills are stored near the field, and work may recommence shortly, but as to that there is no statement.

"In all the section about Kimberley and Deerwood, Minn., and between the two places, jasper and ferruginous chert boulders are common in the marainic float. Iron boulders, some hematite and some manganiferous, are found scattered about, but it seems hard to determine whether they have come from considerable further north and east, whence drove the glaciers that covered the region, or have been the product of nearer ledges. Rock outcrops through this section are very meager, consisting of a very few ledges of quartzite and a dyke of diabase, indeed there are in the neighborhood of Kimberley and Deerwood but one cropping of tach. In the remainder of the region drift is spread as a universal mantle. The diabase is probably an archaean greenstone. In cuttings for roads and in wells these rocks have been encountered more frequently, and in a general way the course of the greenstone has been traced. It is along this course that explorations have begun."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THAT LITTLE SWEDIE" A production of unusual interest will be given at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday evening next, Hampton & Hopkins' superb scenic comedy drama, "That Little Swede," and as its name indicates it deals largely with the Swedish population of the northwest, but it presents an abundance of effects that are daring in their magnitude and admirable in their execution. The reproduction of the falls of the Chippewa is said to be a wonder of clever conception and masterly mechanical work, the roar of the falls is heard and the mist that rises--for it is shown vividly--the play is startling at times in the intensity of its climaxes, and these when presented with all the effects of the intricate stage setting, brings the interest to a degree that is rarely attained even in melodrama. A large number of people are employed in the production.

Explorations for Ore in Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties Says the Journal

An expert in the ore business in writing about the output and the general conditions in this line in Northern Minnesota devotes some little space to the explorations made in this and Aitkin counties and has the following encouraging report to make:

"Reports from the new district in Aitkin and Crow Wing counties, Minnesota, where some exploration has been under way, are more encouraging, and ore may be found in merchantable quantity and quality. At one exploration it is said forty feet of 60 per cent ore has been cut with a drill, but this is not to be taken without confirmation. It has been stated recently in print that the United States Steel corporation holds options on five or six thousand acres and has recently taken 4,000 more to explore and that its work-holes have shown as much as 160 feet of 54 per cent ore. This is an error. The Steel corporation has abandoned its options in that section and says that it has found considerable quantities of ore running as high as 40 per cent, but little better. Its drills are stored near the field, and work may recommence shortly, but as to that there is no statement.

"In all the section about Kimberley and Deerwood, Minn., and between the two places, jasper and ferruginous chert boulders are common in the maraich float. Iron boulders, some hematite and some manganiferous, are found scattered about, but it seems hard to determine whether they have come from considerable further north and east, whence drove the glaciers that covered the region, or have been the product of nearer ledges. Fire on South Side.

The fire department responded to a midnight alarm on Saturday night. A small shed, in which were stored household goods, flour and wood, standing in the rear of the August Beck residence on South Seventh street, was ablaze, but the quick work of the firemen and a strong water pressure quickly reduced the flames.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THAT LITTLE SWEDIE"

A production of unusual interest will be given at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday evening next, Hampton & Hopkins' superb scenic comedy drama, "That Little Swede," and as its name indicates it deals largely with the Swedish population of the northwest, but it presents an abundance of effects that are daring in their magnitude and admirable in their execution. The reproduction of the falls of the Chippewa is said to be a wonder of clever conception and masterly mechanical work, the roar of the falls is heard and the mist that rises—for it is shown vividly—the play is startling at times in the intensity of its climaxes, and these when presented with all the effects of the intricate stage setting, brings the interest to a degree that is rarely attained even in melodrama. A large number of people are employed in the production.

Senator Latimer's Mistake.

United States Senator Latimer of South Carolina made a mistake he didn't relish when he recently got into a Republican meeting in New York city. The senator thought that he was among Democrats and began to eulogize Parker and Davis. Some of his auditors knew the senator and humored the situation by breaking into roars of laughter. The senator quickly realized his mistake, and he immediately retired, followed by the laughter of the Republicans.

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING Explorations for Ore in Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties Says the Journal WORK HAS ONLY COMMENCED Expert Writes About Business in Minnesota—Devotes Space to this Section.

An expert in the ore business in writing about the output and the general conditions in this line in Northern Minnesota devotes some little space to the explorations made in this and Aitkin counties and has the following encouraging report to make:

"Reports from the new district in Aitkin and Crow Wing counties, Minnesota, where some exploration has been under way, are more encouraging, and ore may be found in merchantable quantity and quality. At one exploration it is said forty feet of 60 per cent ore has been cut with a drill, but this is not to be taken without confirmation. It has been stated recently in print that the United States Steel corporation holds options on five or six thousand acres and has recently taken 4,000 more to explore and that its work-holes have shown as much as 160 feet of 54 per cent ore. This is an error. The Steel corporation has abandoned its options in that section and says that it has found considerable quantities of ore running as high as 40 per cent, but little better. Its drills are stored near the field, and work may recommence shortly, but as to that there is no statement.

"In all the section about Kimberley and Deerwood, Minn., and between the two places, Jasper and ferruginous chert boulders are common in the marainic float. Iron boulders, some hematite and some manganiferous, are found scattered about, but it seems hard to determine whether they have come from considerable further north and east, whence drove the glaciers that covered the region, or have been the product of nearer ledges. Rock outcrops through this section are very meager, consisting of a very few ledges of quartzite and a dyke of diabase, indeed there are in the neighborhood of Kimberley and Deerwood but one cropping of tach. In the remainder of the region drift is spread as a universal mantle. The diabase is probably an archaean greenstone. In cuttings for roads and in wells these rocks have been encountered more frequently, and in a general way the course of the greenstone has been traced. It is along this course that explorations have begun."

Senator Latimer's Mistake. United States Senator Latimer of South Carolina made a mistake he didn't relish when he recently got into a Republican meeting in New York city. The senator thought that he was among Democrats and began to eulogize Parker and Davis. Some of his auditors knew the senator and humorized the situation by breaking into roars of laughter. The senator quickly realized his mistake, and he immediately retired, followed by the laughter of the Republicans.

Lou Dillon's Epleurean Diet. Lou Dillon, the unbeaten trotting mare, according to Country Life in America, always has the best of foods—oats, carrots, hay and so on. She is a Californian by birth, and as Mr. Billings does not wish to risk the consequences of a change of diet all her hay is brought from her native state, sometimes at a cost of $50 a ton, sometimes at a cost of $100.

NAVAL OFFICIALS AROUSED.

Effort to Injure Battleship Connecticut Stirs Them Up.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Navy department officers are thoroughly aroused over the discovery of the latest attempt to injure the new battleship Connecticut, launched at the New York navyyard last Thursday, by the punching or boring of a hole in her side below the water line. Thus far only unofficial reports of the matter have reached the department, where it is confidently hoped that the rigid investigation now being conducted by the commandant of the New York yard into the work of those who are implicated in the affair will lead to the apprehension of the guilty persons. The naval officials here are unable to ascribe a motive, unless it was one of pure mischief. It is said that the injury to the ship is not at all serious and the repairs can be made quickly.
